Study China Programme

Live and learn in China for three weeks

Study China is a unique learning opportunity, financed by the UK government funding students to experience Chinese life, culture, language, arts and business.

About Study China

Finance is provided by the UK government and managed by The University of Manchester providing students with a structured programme of learning at leading Chinese Universities.

Study China is in its fourth year and has enabled over 1000 students to explore this fascinating country and culture.

For three weeks you will live on campus as a student, attend a programme of tutorials and classes and enjoy the city you are living in.

Do I need to have Chinese language skills

No, absolute beginners are welcome as are fluent speakers and every variation in between. You will be matched to a class depending on your previous skills and experience.

What will it cost

UK government fund all of your tuition fees, accommodation costs, organised trips and excursions.

You will need to pay for your own airfare and provide spending money

Are there any bursaries or alternative funding available

Yes, Study China offer a Widening Participation bursary, a number of other universities offer bursaries specifically for their students to participate in Study China
